Mr. McLeod is reatly encouraged.

-The Second Parish Church, of Portland, here Dr. Payson preached in former days, was ne of those destroyed by the great fire on the th ultimo. The entire t of the structure is estimated at a million of ilers, $750,000 in gold. It is surmounted by auge dome of the oriental type, which can be n from every house-top in Berlin. The inior is broken up into a great central hall of orship, not far from a hundred feet in length, provided with three thousand chairs for the rshippers. These are of oak and richly ved. The finish of the interior is of the most borate kind, and yet there is not a word or abou in the building, except the imitation of Commandments behind the pulpit. The and color of the wall is brown, but it is so fusely studded with stars and very delicate cery done in gold that the eye is dazzled with splendor. ... The Bishop of Oxford, in a late address, declaims most emphatically against bores. His lordship says:-"You can forgive almost anything in any man or any person who comes to talk to you, provided he avoids the unpardonable offense of dulness. You may not agree with him. You may differ from him widely, but if he is bright, good-natured, airy-if the bubbling up of the carbonic goes on in what he says or what he writes-though you may not altogether approve of what he says or what he writes, though you may not altogether approve of the saline particles the draught contains, you drink it down; but if it is that terrible thing of all terrible things, ditchwarer dulness, who can bear it?" - Hon. Asa Packer, of this State, some time since gave $500,000 to found an Episcopalian College. In honor of the donor the trustees named the institution "Packer College;" but by Mr. Packer's request the name has been changed to "Leigh University." The institution is located at South Bethlehem.

-The Forty-seventh Annual Convention of the Diocese of Maine recently assembled in Grace Church, Bath. The ceremonies were very impressive, and harmony and good feeling prevailed during the entire session. The church was appropriately draped in mourning for the late lamented Bishop Burgess. On Thursday morning, among other business, a motion was passed to erect a suitable monument to his memory. The Convention then went into an election for Bishop, observing certain preliminary rules adopted in such cases. Upon the first ballot it appeared that the Rev. Alexander Burgess, rector of St. Luke's, Portland, was elected by the clergy to the office of Bishop. At this juncture, before the vote of the laity had been taken, Mr. Burgess arose, and in a few brief remarks expressed his gratitude to his brethren for their esteem and high appreciation of his services, evinced by their action, but respectfully and decidedly declined acceptance of the office. On a second ballot, it was found that the Rev. F. D. Huntington, D. D., Rector of Emmanuel Church, Boston, had received the requisite number of votes, both clerical and lay, and a motion was made by the Rev. Mr. Dalton that the choice be leclared unanimous. The Gloria in Excelsis was then sung by the Convention.

-The archbishops and bishops of England have determined on the formation of a new order of laborers in the Church, called "readers," They are to be publicly appointed after an examination by a bishop, and 'are to minister in outlying districts. They will be not unlike the local preachers of the Methodists, and it is thought their influence will draw the masses towards the established Church.

-The American Churchman says:-Bishop Whitehouse, during the early part of June, administered the right of confirmation in Copenhagen, Denmark, and in Gothberg and Stockholm, Sweden, also consecrating a church in the latter place. In these ministrations he was acting in behalt of the Bishop of London. The Reverend F. S. May, of the Colonial Church Chronicle, officiated as Honorary Chaplain.

-At the eleventh annual meeting of the London Diocesan Church Building Society, the Bishop of the Diocese said:-"The work of Church Extension was progressing with greater rapidity than at any former period. The number of churches consecrated in the Diocese of London during the last twelve months was thir-

-Father Cleveland, who has just passed his ninety-fourth birthday, preached all day at the South Boston House of Correction, a few Sabbaths since. Many a young man might envy the health and usefulness of this venerable man. MISCELLANEOUS.

-The keel of the new misssionary ship to take the place of the Morning Star has already been laid in East Boston, and she is expected to be completed by the middle of September.

-A Swedenborgian Theological School is about to be opened at Waltham.

-A letter from a gentleman who lately spent a Sabbath at Bologna gives an interesting account of the Protestant church in that city, and of the manner in which its services are conducted. He says the spiritual condition of the church is strikingly similar to what he has often witnessed in our American churches in times of revival.

-The latest accounts in regard to the Sunday School movement in Germany are very encouraging. A private letter from Berlin speaks of a school as growing so rapidly that the rooms could not contain the children. Seven classes had to seek new quarters.

-In France much sympathy is telt in behalf of the freedmen of the United States. M. Boussiere, a gentleman in Bordeaux, has subscribed fifty thousand francs for their benefit. A late letter says:-"It is regarded in Europe as of great importance to act now for the elevation and salvation of the colored race."
